Area towns plan for Memorial Day

Memorial Day observances will be held in Newry, Locke Mills, East Bethel, Bethel, West Paris, Andover and Woodstock this Memorial Day long weekend.

Beginning on Sunday, May 27 at 11 a.m., the town of Newry will hold a memorial ceremony to recognize past and present town residents who served their country during the Korean and the Vietnam Conflicts.

The ceremony, to be held at the Newry Municipal Building, will feature the dedication of two plaques placed on the Veterans' Memorial rock in front of the building.

Prior to the Memorial Ceremony, at 9 a.m., a service will be held at the Newry Community Church, with a coffee hour to follow at the municipal building at 10:30 a.m.

The public is invited and local veterans are especially encouraged to attend.

On Monday, May 28 the Jackson-Silver American Legion Post #68 will host a flag-raising ceremony at the Legion Hall in Locke Mills at 8:30 a.m., followed by a parade beginning at 9 a.m., also at the Legion Hall.

Featuring the Telstar High School Marching Band, the parade will travel from the Legion Hall to the Greenwood Veterans' Memorial monument where a wreath will be laid in memory of U.S. Army veterans. At Alder River, a wreath will be placed in memory of U.S. Navy veterans.

From Greenwood, members of the Jackson-Silver Post will travel to the East Bethel Cemetery for services there, including a firing squad salute.

In Bethel, the 10:30 a.m. parade forms at Kelley Brothers Auto Supply, to begin at 11 a.m.

The parade will proceed up Main Street to the Common for a Memorial Day service. Rev. Brendon Bass will give the invocation, followed by the music of the Telstar band and a reciting of the Gettysburg Address.

The ceremony will conclude with a salute to the dead, by the Mundy-Allen American Legion Post #81, and Taps. After the ceremony, the band members will be served a lunch at the Legion Hall, courtesy of the Legion.

From Bethel, the Telstar band will travel to Andover for a 3 p.m. parade.

The Andover parade, sponsored by the Andover Firemen's Association, will begin at the elementary school and travel to the village Common for a memorial service at the Veterans' Monument.

In West Paris, the West Paris Grange is sponsoring a Parade scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. at the Legion Hall. From the Legion Hall, the parade will travel to the bridge, to the Wayside Cemetery and to the park.

Parade participants are invited to the Grange Hall for ice cream following the parade.

In Woodstock, there will be a speaker at the Grange Hall at 1 p.m., followed by a parade to the cemetery, where memorial services will be held.

Newry explores options for SAD #44 withdrawal

By MICHAEL DANIELS

More than two dozen people turned out Tuesday afternoon at the Newry municipal building to hear Richard Card, deputy commissioner of the state Department of Educational and Cultural Services, outline the town's options for withdrawing from SAD #44.

Card estimated that if Newry were to go through with withdrawal, other district towns would have to raise approximately $500,000 more a year in local taxes in order to support the school system.

Newry First Selectman Steve Wight stressed that Tuesday's meeting was strictly to "answer questions and explore options." It would be premature, he said, to think that the town was committed to withdrawing from the district, but "in 1965 a decision was made to join in and form the district. In 1990, 25 years later, it's time to review that decision," he said.

Newry's dissatisfaction stems primarily from the high cost (approximately $12,500 a year) that it pays to educate each Newry child currently in the SAD #44 system.

Newry has only 55 students now in the system, but it has approximately 25 percent of the district's assessed real estate valuation—hence, it must pay 25 percent of the total district school tax bill, regardless of how many children it sends.

Town officials also object to the town's small voting power on the school board, where state law requires a population-based representation.

But both Wight and Sunday River Skiway owner Les Otten were also at pains to put the dissatisfaction in a larger context.

Newry has repeatedly attempted to promote equitable regional solutions to a variety of municipal problems, they argued, and these attempts have repeatedly been rejected by other area

Caribou-Speckled bill advances in U.S. Senate

The Senate Agriculture Committee approved legislation recently to establish a Caribou-Speckled Mountain Wilderness Area in Western Maine. The measure was sponsored by Senators Bill Cohen and George Mitchell.

"We are very pleased that the Senate committee has moved forward expeditiously with this legislation," the Senators said in a joint statement. "We believe this compromise bill strikes an appropriate balance between those who wish to enjoy hiking and camping in a relatively pristine wilderness area and those who wish to preserve industry's access to public timber."

The bill would designate a 12,000-acre wilderness area in the White Mountain National Forest and release an additional 4,000 acres to multiple use, including timber harvesting. It also authorizes continued state regulation of fish and game activity in the area and allows the Forest Service to take appropriate measures to control fire, insects and disease in the wilderness area.

A similar House version, sponsored by Maine Representatives Olympia Snowe and Joseph Brennan, has been approved by the Interior Committee and is awaiting action in the House Agriculture Committee.

Introduction of the legislation followed an in-depth study and consultation process that began in 1983 and took into account the recommendations of the U.S. Forest Service, an ad hoc advisory commission established by the Delegation

Andover selectmen decide against special town meeting on fire truck, town hall plans

By BARBARA ADAMS

At the Andover selectmen meeting on Tuesday night, Key Bank, with a 12 percent interest rate, was the successful bidder in reply to four inquiries to banks from the selectmen seeking to borrow an amount not to exceed $175,000, to tide the town over until taxes are collected. The interest will only be charged on an "as used" basis.

The selectmen decided not to call a special town meeting but will carry over pertinent items until the next regular town meeting. Two possibilities for an agenda for the special town meeting were to have been an addition to the Town Office, or transferring the town office to the Town Hall; and the purchase of a new fire truck. Due to lack of public interest at this time, the selectmen felt neither item required a special town meeting.

Bids were a main topic of the evening, with the successful bidder for the road going to Richard Pellerin, and for road grader work, to Steve Swasey. The choosing of the successful bidders for back hoe work and town fuel has been tabled in order to obtain clarification of 31 YEARS AT GOULD—Pauline Davis is presented with a Boston rocker earlier this month at an assembly of students and faculty at Gould Academy. Davis, secretary to Headmaster William Clough, is retiring after 31 years of service to the school.

Pauline Davis retires after 31 years at Gould

Gould Academy students and faculty assembled in front of Hancorn Hall Friday morning, May 11, to wish a fond farewell and happy retirement to Mrs. Pauline Davis. After being serenaded with "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," Mrs. Davis, a Gould Alumna, was presented a Boston Rocker, embellished with the Gould Academy insignia. After graduating from Westbrook College in Portland, Mrs. Davis joined the Gould staff as secretary to the headmaster, July 20, 1959. At a current faculty meeting, headmaster William P. Clough, III jokingly asked faculty members for a vote on the acceptance of Davis' retirement, and received no show of hands. The faculty "voted" unanimously that she should remain on the job, then roasted Davis with past remembrances and presented her with binoculars for bird watching, a favorite pastime. Headmaster Clough and Board Chairman Alan B. Ordway have remarked on a number of occasions that Polly Davis' steady presence in the Headmaster's Office has been a key ingredient in recent progress at the Academy.

Chamber's Candidates' Night draws fewer than 20 voters

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce hosted a Candidates' Night last Sunday at the Bethel Inn, with nine of the 13 area June primaries hopefuls in attendance.

Fewer than 20 area residents attended the candidates' forum. Chamber Executive Director Robin Zinchuk said, "The small turnout is not unusual. We'll do it again before the November elections."

"Some good people were here and some good questions were asked," Zinchuk said.

The candidates are as follows:
• Senate District 8: Eugene Boivin, D-Rumford; Randy Hotham, R-Dixfield; and Jeff Mills, D-Bethel.

The Senate District 8 seat is being vacated by Edgar Erwin, D-Rumford.

• Senate District 15: Incumbent R. Donald Twitchell, D-Norway, unopposed. Twitchell was unable to attend the forum.

• House District 49: Al Barth, R-Bethel; Sue Fraser, D-Bethel; and Stan Howe, R-Bethel.

The House District 49 seat is being vacated by Jeff Mills, who is seeking the Senate District 8 seat.

• House District 50: Jeff Bellwood, R-Oxford; Rick Bennett, R-Norway; Dennis Gray, D-Norway; and Mike Quinn, D-Norway.

The House District 50 seat is being vacated by Joseph G. Walker, D-Norway.

• House District 52: Incumbent Ida Luther, D-Mexico.

• House District 53: Incumbent Phyllis Erwin, D-Rumford; Robert Miller, D-Rumford.

Candidates Luther, Erwin, Miller and Quinn were unable to attend the Sunday night forum.

Forum moderator and Chamber member Leon Favreau, owner of Bethel Furniture Stock, told the candidates the U.S. Forest Service is going to release its Northern Forest Study soon, and will be recommending a "greenline park" concept for 60 percent of the state of Maine.

Under that concept, according to Favreau, the federal government will have a say in much of the woodland use and development.

"Can I get anybody to say they would be against greenlining," Favreau asked.

Bellwood said yes, he would be against greenlining. "Local control—that's my issue," Bellwood said. "Use it and manage it so it's going to be a viable resource in the future, but use it."

Barth said he would be "dead set against it."

Howe asked, "Can't you go along with that and say you'd encourage multiple use of the land?"

Howe's response drew laughter from the audience. Favreau is also president of the local Multiple Use Association.

Bennett said he would advocate looking at each piece of land to determine what its best use is. He said he "thinks we've been guilty of (over) use of land, trying to get too much out of it."

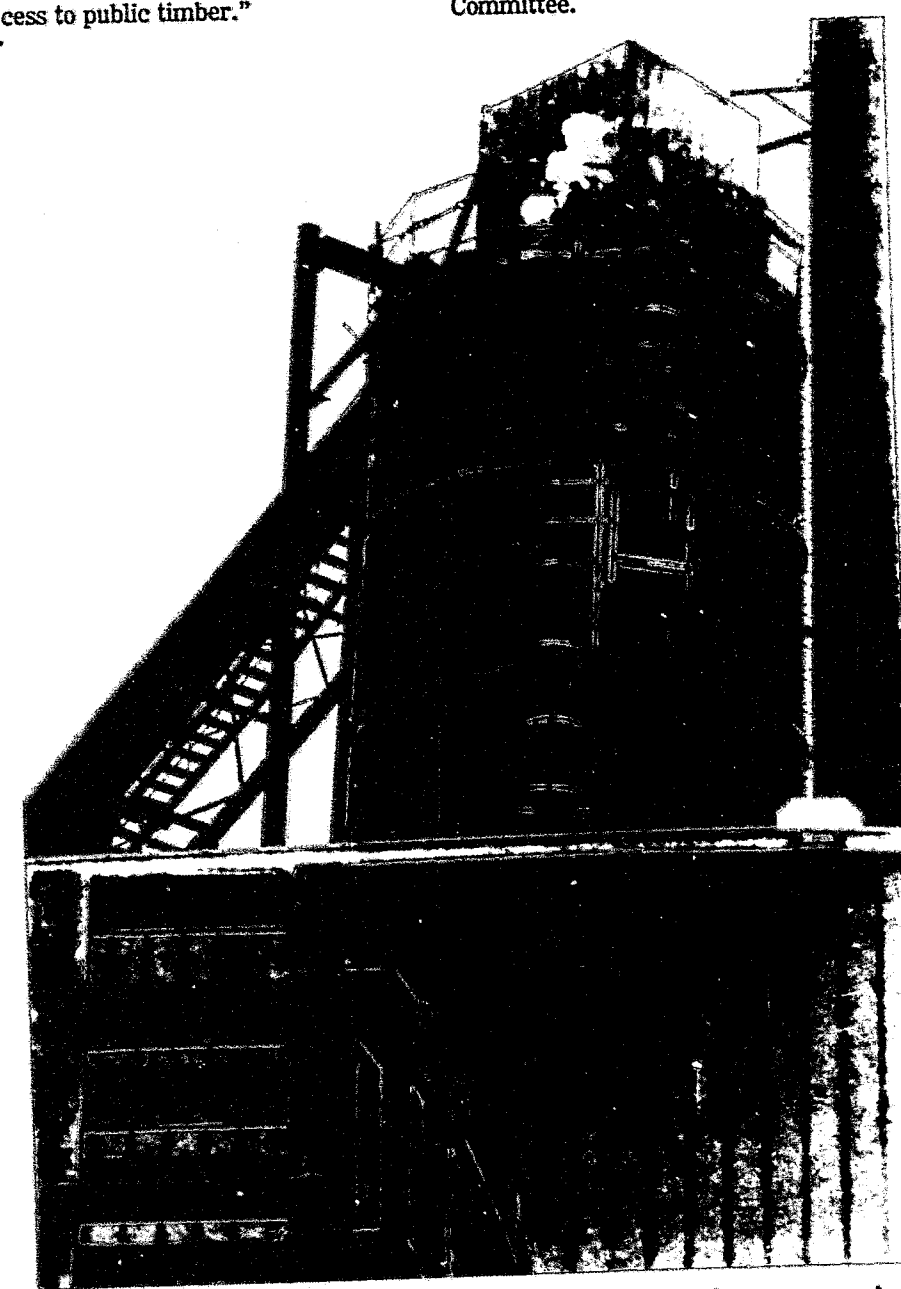

Boivin, who earlier had labeled himself a "very loud, very out-spoken person," asked, "When do we start making (protest) posters—tonight?"

Mills said, "A lot of times it's important to have an overview of large areas, to make sure Maine stays the way we all want it to be."

While "we realize we need to watch the federal government," Mills said, some towns have not done enough to plan for the use of woodland areas.

"What we've got to do is push for more local planning and ensure that good laws are made on the local level," Mills said.

THREE TIMES—Bethel firefighters were called out on Sunday to a recurring fire in the woodchip silo at P.H. Chadbourne's on Rt. 26 in Bethel. (Photo by Christy Cross)

Fire at P.H. Chadbourne & Co. flares up three times on Sunday

Three times on Sunday the Bethel Fire Department was called to P.H. Chadbourne & Co. on Rt. 26 to extinguish a fire which started, possibly as a result of a planned Central Maine Power Company outage the previous night.

Bethel Fire Chief Jim Young said Monday he received the first call at 8 a.m. Sunday, reporting the fire as a possible structure fire.

He said he arrived to find a fire in the woodchip silo which feeds the boiler at the wood products plant.

Young said the fire department responded with one pumper and a utility truck and stayed for three hours. When he left, he said, a crew had a hose on the silo and was working to dig out the wood chips.

"It flared up again at 2 p.m.," he said. The fire fighters spent about two hours at the scene on the second call.

Then, he said, around 8 p.m., it flared up again. Fire fighters stayed the third time until about 10:30 p.m. "It did stay down that time," Young said.

Young said two fire fighters, Rob Gunderson and Scott Brown, suffered minor smoke inhalation and were treated at the scene by Bethel Rescue.

According to Young, the fire started after the power went off during the night. He said sparks from the boiler went up the chute the chips come down and the fire started there.

Opinions

Take a moment

Memorial weekend opens into summer like a pasture gate left open to a flock of sheep. We kick up our heels and bound through it into the freedom of weeks of sunshine (we hope), warm winds and lush greenery.

Many smaller communities in the state have given over the traditional Memorial Day observances to the larger towns and to cities. But not here.

Take a moment on Sunday in Newry or on Monday in our other area towns to thank the people who have given their time and energy to organize the services you are enjoying, and while you're at those services, remembering those who died for our country and for freedom, take another moment to remember the people in Eastern Europe this past year.

Thanks to their fight for freedom, we are all just a little closer, we hope, to bringing up our children in a world without war. —CCC

Capitol event

Whispered murmurings have been heard this week—no names, please—of “plans” for the Governor’s visit to the Bethel area on May 29. Fantasy is probably a more apt word. It goes something like this (or you can write your own script):

There’s going to be a stockade set up on Bethel Common in honor of the Governor’s visit. Somebody is busy having property tax bills—30 percent increase and all—printed on onion skin paper, the closest thing to parchment available in these here hills.

Upon the Governor’s arrival, he will be led into the stockade, to be placed in stocks for his role in raising property taxes. As he does his time in the stocks, these hill country colonists will file by with their onion skin tax bills in hand and stuff them in his mouth.

Actually, it’s only a handful of people fantasizing this revolution. And the stockade is easier punishment than being tarred and feathered.

At worst, probably only a few people will show up at the Capitol event, and they will likely be very polite.

And after the sorrowful attendance Sunday at the legislative candidates’ night, how many can complain about taxation anyway?

Yo! Is there anybody out there? —CCC

Letters to the editor

ATTEND, VOTE

To voters of SAD #44:

On Thursday, May 31 the voters in SAD #44 will have the opportunity to reconsider two articles in the school budget. The meeting will be called to order in the Telstar auditorium promptly at 7:30 p.m. Prior to 7:30 every voter must be checked off the voter list for their town. The school will open its doors at 6:30 p.m. to allow time to accomplish this. Please try to come by 6:30.

The two articles to be reconsidered are: Article VI, which deals with additional local funds (100 percent paid by the municipalities) and Article VII, which deals with the total amount necessary to fund the total budget.

The amounts voted through at the May 3 meeting added $80,000 to these figures. As you know, a petition has been presented to the school board to reconsider this vote—as the May 3 meeting was poorly attended by the taxpayers.

Since that time it has been learned that the district will receive an additional $33,000 from the state. This figure was obtained from the Department of Educational and Cultural Services in Augusta. The $33,000 was not figured in when the budget was voted on May 3.

If Article VI is passed on the 31st in the amount of $653,647.00, and Article VII in the amount of $5,901,117.00, the original budget the board of directors approved will remain exactly the same. The local tax portion of that budget, however, will be reduced to reflect the additional $33,000 the district is to receive in state revenue.

The resultant savings to the municipalities will then be: Andover—$18,638; Bethel—$47,541; Greenwood—$17,808; Newry—$32,452; and Woodstock—$18,461.

We are all aware of the extent our local taxes will increase this year. Bethel’s property tax will be approximately 30 percent higher. We need to save where we can. We urge every taxpayer to attend the meeting on May 31 and to vote. Voting is our democratic right and our responsibility.

FAMILY RECYCLING DAY

I want to thank all of the persons who participated in the Family Recycling Day. Also, I want to thank the merchants in Bethel who contributed prizes for the raffle, namely: Mountain View Store, The Only Place, Breaux’s Dairy Shop, Prims, Charles Place, IGA, Brooks Bros., Cisco and Poncho, Western Maine Supply and Val Seaborg of Renaissance Creations.

I also want to thank Mike Kelley, Billy Stowell, Ian Kubiak and Rockie Graham for their musical endeavors.

Hello, remember me?

Some people call me Old Glory, others call me the Star Spangled Banner, but whatever they call me, I am your flag, the flag of the United States of America... Something has been bothering me, so I thought I might talk it over with you... because it is about you and me.

I remember some time ago people lined up on both sides of the street to watch the parade and naturally I was leading every parade, proudly waving in the breeze. When your daddy saw me coming, he immediately removed his hat and placed it against his left shoulder so that his hand was directly over his heart... remember?

And you, I remember you. Standing there straight as a soldier. You didn’t have a hat, but you were giving the right salute. Remember little sister? Not to be outdone, she was saluting the same as you with her right hand over her heart... remember?

What happened? I’m still the same old flag, though I have a few more stars since you were a boy. A lot more blood has been shed since those parades of long ago.

But now I don’t feel as proud as I used to. When I come down your street you just stand there with your hands in your pockets and I may get a small glance and then you look away. Then

I see the children running around and shouting... they don’t seem to know who I am... I saw one man take off his hat then look around. He didn’t see anybody else with theirs off so he quickly put his back on.

Is it a sin to be patriotic anymore? Have you forgotten what I stand for and where I’ve been?... Anzio, Guadalcanal, Korea and now Viet Nam. Take a look at the memorial honor rolls sometime, of those who never came back to keep this republic free... one nation under God... when you salute me, you are actually saluting them.

Well, it won’t be long until I’ll be coming down your street again. So, when you see me, stand straight, place your right hand over your heart... and I’ll salute you, by waving back... and I’ll know that you remember.

Americanism chairman, Mundt-Allen Unit #61, Bethel. Merrill was unable to find the name of the writer.

Memorial Day

I look across the field of graves
Of loved ones who have gone on before.
I wonder, will I meet each one of them,
When my time comes to reach that distant shore?

On many graves there flies our country’s flag
In memory of those who answered to her call.
We can be proud of their love for us and country too.
They fought and died and gladly gave their all.

We place our flowers in loving memory
Of those who died to keep us free.
They’ve thrown to us the torch with freedom’s flame.
To keep alive that flame is up to you and me.

PLANNING FORUM SCHEDULED

To the Editor:

In last week’s Citizen, the editor expressed her concern over the need to resurrect the now disbanded Bethel Development Committee. She pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce should take a more active role in promoting the Bethel Area in respect to business growth. She felt that the Chamber was only interested in promoting tourism. The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce had already recognized the need to develop local potential business not related to tourism.

The first steps in this direction have already been taken. On April 17, a small group of local business people concerned about the direction of growth and development of the Town of Bethel and the surrounding areas met to discuss the feasibility of re-establishing the defunct development committee. Those present included: Ginger Kelly, Sandra Gunther, Tom McGinnis, Jeff Parsons, David (Fuzzy) Thurston and Linda Varrell. The group has invited to Bethel on June 5, other Chamber of Commerce executive directors from town and areas similar in size and demographics, to discuss how they have implemented and structured successful planning committees. Seven areas have been targeted to include: Rangleley, Greenville, Camden and Kingfield. Representatives from all local area governments have also been invited to attend this information gathering forum.

The Forum will commence at the Sudbury Inn for presentations given by the visitors followed by a panel discussion with a brief question and answer period. The Forum will then move from 8-8:30 p.m. to the Holiday House for its evening session. Dinner will be served at the Holiday House, followed by small group discussions and a social gathering.

Any Chamber member interested in attending this information gathering Forum should contact Robin Zinchuk at the Chamber office no later than June 1. Anyone interested in volunteering to be on the newly formed Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Long Range Planning Committee should contact Ginger Kelly at the Joly Realty Office for more information.

IMPORTANCE OF SCHOOLS

To the Editor:

Throughout his eight years in office, Ronald Reagan was known as the “Great Communicator.” I confess to having been quite puzzled by this at the time, but I believe I now understand why.

President Reagan seems to have been very successful in convincing us that increasing taxes and government regulation of the market place are the very definition of evil. One result is that we seem to have forgotten the essential connection between taxes and services, whether they be as simple as the filling of potholes in our roads, or as complex as the overseeing and regulating of the Savings and Loan industry or providing our children with a quality education.

There has been much talk recently about our declining competitive position in the world and the need to rebuild and refurbish our infrastructure. I propose we begin by considering our schools as the most important component of that infrastructure, and rather than argue about what we are going to take away from it, talk about how we can enhance and improve it. If Steve Wight is correct, we can do it for the price of about four video rentals a year.

INCOME SURVEY

To the Editor:

Recently the Town of Bethel was invited to participate in Phase II of the Community Development Bloc Grant program for this year. When the town was considering applying for this grant, we looked at: 1) Where the most storm and ground water would be removed for the cost, and 2) the number of middle, low and fixed income people which could be served. That is, where we could make the greatest improvements for the money spent.

The Citizens Advisory Committee has met with the State of Maine Community Development representatives and are assisting in the completion of this phase. The grant will be used to replace sewer lines, add storm drains, and replace water lines in the area of Spring Street, Philbrook Street, High Street, and parts of Elm Street, Mason Street, and Chapman Street.

One of the requirements of Phase II is an income survey of the residences within the area being served by this grant. These people will receive an income survey and a return envelope within the next couple of weeks. When it is received, please fill it out and mail it. If you live in the targeted area and do not receive a survey, please contact the town office. If you have any questions, you may contact Linda Saunders or the Rural Water Resources representative, Carolyn Sizer, at 1-508-297-1376.

Kirk Siegel from the Mahoosuc Land

Mahoosuc Land Trust

Twelve members of the Board of Directors of the Mahoosuc Land Trust and the Norway-Paris Heritage Trust met jointly for a potluck supper and evening of discussion on May 17.

After an exchange of ideas, experiences and land trust policies, the two groups agreed to pool resources where possible, to try to avoid duplication of ef-orts, and to collaborate on certain projects.

The directors discussed at length their awareness that multiple uses of land, such as timbering, agriculture, recreation, enhancing wildlife habitats and preserving scenic vistas can be encouraged by the land owner himself, as he wishes, through the design of conservation easements for his property.

This is an alternative to selling the land outright to developers, and often, rather than limit the use of land, may encourage public access to resources that might not be available or accessible otherwise, for example a canoe landing site or a mountaintop view.

Another joint meeting of the two Land Trust Boards of Directors is planned for Thursday, July 19.

Simulated bus accident prepares emergency crews for real thing

The Bethel Ambulance Service staged a simulated schoolbus accident last Saturday morning on Rt. 35 in Bethel, to help prepare area emergency personnel should an accident actually occur.

Reserve police officer April Crowley said on Monday, "I knew when I stepped through the door of the bus it wasn't real, but still..."

She said the emotions were lifelike. Bethel Ambulance Service Director Arlene Greenleaf, who organized the simulation, had taken time prior to calling out the emergency crews to paint some of the 27 school children volunteering as "accident victims" with realistic looking "injuries."

"It was wierd," said student Kyle Moran, at the base hospital set up for the victims at the ambulance barn.

Three ambulance services—Bethel, South Paris and Stoneham—participated in the simulation. The Bethel Fire Department also participated, as did SAD #44 Supt. Dewaine Craig and three nurses from Stephens Memorial Hosp.

Bethel Ambulance, the closest, responded to the emergency call with its first vehicle in a reported 12 minutes; its second vehicle arrived two minutes later.

Stoneham arrived in 24 minutes and Tri-Town from South Paris arrived in 34 minutes.

From the Bethel Rescue Service were Arlene Greenleaf, Barry Coolidge, Rose Sumner, Heidi Akers, Wilber Crowell, Wilma Hughes, Laura Plawlock, Mike Bennett and Cheryl Bennett. From Stoneham Rescue were William Severance, Laura Severance, Mike Buno, Skip Green and Joyce Fleck, and Tri-Town Rescue was represented by Mary Emery, Grace Archer and Harry Archer.

towns. "It's like driving down a long one-way street," Otten said of the thwarted attempts at regional cooperation on such issues as fire protection, ambulance service and solid waste disposal.

"We have to come to some reasonable man's agreement as to how we share those costs," he said. And if the money the town raises from real estate taxes to support the school district, "is the only hammer we have," then it's an option that must be explored.

And from an educational point of view, he said, "It's an interesting thought process to consider what we can buy with our $728,000 (what Newry will contribute to SAD #44 next year). As parents, we have to be interested."

Deputy Commissioner Card said that, speaking strictly from a personal point of view, "I think it's legitimate that you're exploring the options."

Newry's withdrawal would be "a viable process," he said, and would probably not require dissolution of the entire district.

By the time all the costs are calculated, he said, it would cost SAD #44 approximately $500,000 a year should Newry withdraw, even if Newry children were then tutored back into the system. That net loss would have to be made up from local taxes from other district towns.

As he described it, the withdrawal process takes a year or more and requires two separate votes by the town.

The first vote would be to consider withdrawal, and to form a committee to study the issue and develop an educational plan for the town.

That plan would have to be highly detailed, he said, and must include an in-depth fiscal component. The completed plan would have to be approved by the Department of Educational and Cultural Services.

Once the plan was completed and approved by the state, there would be a second town vote to go ahead with the actual withdrawal. The second vote would require a two-thirds majority, he said, the first only a simple majority.

Card said that in the past five years only two Maine towns have gone through the complete process. Many towns have considered withdrawing from their school districts, he said, but in the end most decide against it.

Financial concerns provide the usual impetus for a town to consider withdrawal, he said, and the process frequently becomes "a highly emotional activity." Other options short of withdrawing were also discussed Tuesday. For instance, the district funding formula could be changed so that it was not totally determined by assessments.

Approximately 10 years ago, Newry had proposed a combination of 50 percent assessment and 50 percent population, but the proposal died in committee. Such a change would lower Newry's tax bill, but would raise taxes in other district towns.

At that time the proposal had little support outside of Newry, but school director John Brown of Bethel, who was also on the board at the time, said that things might have changed. Once the financial implications of a possible Newry withdrawal are recognized, he said, "it might increase the liberal tendencies of the other towns."

The next step for Newry, Wight said, would be to contact other towns that have considered a similar move. "We want to hear the horror stories," he said. School Director Alison Aloisio will coordinate the effort.

Bethel police

On Friday, May 18 a SAD #44 principal called to ask what could be done about harassing phone calls from one student to another. Police advised the principal that harassing phone calls are a criminal violation and a student could be charged.

On Thursday, May 17 at 5:10 p.m. a West Bethel resident reported finding a wallet on the roadside on Rt. 35 in Albany. Police returned the wallet, which belonged to a Bryant Pond resident.

At 10:16 a.m. a Massachusetts resident reported a former tenant at her Railroad Street property had left 70 tires behind when she moved.

On Wednesday, May 16 at 6:10 p.m. a Main Street resident reported a group of juveniles playing football on Main Street.

On Tuesday, May 15 a Bridge Street resident reported a stray dog at her residence. The animal control officer was not available.

Bethel Masons establish community charity fund

Bethel Lodge 97 A.F. & A.M., at its State Communication for May, voted to establish a charity fund that would allow the Lodge to donate funds to worthy causes within the community.

This new venture came about in response to a number of requests that the brethren felt were worthy of their collective support.

At the meeting it was voted to donate $25 to the Odyssey of the Mind team from Crescent Park School in Bethel to help finance their trip to the midwest for the National OM Championships.

It was also decided that the Lodge would again contribute to Telstar's Project Graduation with a $100 donation.

Finally, a SAD #44 scholarship of $500 was established, to be awarded to a 1990 graduate for his or her college education. This scholarship will be a joint venture with the Grand Lodge of Maine, which will match the local Lodge's contribution, dollar for dollar.

The brethren of Bethel Lodge will have an opportunity to donate to the Charity Fund in the months ahead.

Other business that came before the Lodge included the news of the death of Bethel resident Clayton Bane. Brother Bane was a member of Granite Lodge in West Paris but was well known to the members of the Bethel Lodge. A sympathy card was signed by all the brethren in attendance and sent to the Bane family.

It was reported that Brother E. Oscar Jenkins has moved to Long Beach, Calif. Brother Jenkins was raised as a Master Mason in 1918 and was over due for his fourth star for his 50-year Veterans Medal awarded by the Lodge and the Grand Lodge of Maine.

It had been the plan of the Bethel Lodge to have Brother Jenkins on hand to recognize his 72 years of Masonry. This award will be made by the Grand Lodge of California on behalf of Bethel Lodge.

One Past Master who was especially made welcome was Worthy Brother Harold Rolfe who had not attended Lodge for some time.

DEP denies wood company's air emission license renewal

Citing a 10 year history of repeated environmental violations, DEP Commissioner Dean C. Marriot has refused to renew Wilner Wood Products Company's air emission license.

Without a current license, or a renewal application under review, the Norway firm cannot legally operate in Maine. Marriot said that he recognized the "unfortunate consequences" of his decision, but that the facts of the case gave him no choice.

"We have been trying since 1980 to bring this company into compliance with state law. It's been a futile effort. They have repeatedly violated state air quality standards as well as the terms of their original license. They have failed to show us that the future would be any different. There is no justification for allowing them to continue to operate in this way."

Wilner Wood Products has held a number of air emissions licenses in the past, the most recent of which was issued June 11, 1980.

Following up on numerous citizen complaints, the DEP documented license violations to the degree that staff requested legal assistance from the Attorney General's Office.

In 1987, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency listed Wilner as violating air quality standards.

In August 1989, Wilner agreed to bring the operation into compliance and to submit information supporting the firm's application for license renewal.

As of May 11, 1990, Wilner Wood Products Company had done neither. DEP's denial of the renewal application contained references to the company's historical noncompliance as well as its failure to perform as agreed.

The document signed by Marriot last week noted that the DEP was not convinced that Wilner's emissions would (1) receive "best practical treatment;" (2) that they would not violate existing emissions standards; and (3) that they would not cause air quality in the area to deteriorate.

Wilner can appeal the Department's decision to the state Board of Environmental Protection.

ALL-STATE MUSICIANS. Two Telstar musicians perform at All State

Two top-notch Telstar musicians last week joined nearly 500 of their statewide peers at the Maine All State Music Conference, held at Mountain Valley High School in Rumford.

Senior Todd Posey and junior Meri Howe had been selected for All State at auditions held in November.

They joined their fellow musicians for two days of rehearsals, on Thursday and Friday, and for a two live performances on Saturday.

Todd was selected as a singer in the chorus, while Meri played flute in the All State orchestra.

Both are members of the Telstar Band and officers in the Tri-M Music Honor Society chapter at Telstar.

Todd is headed for the University of Rochester this fall. He's still undecided about his major, but plans to continue singing.

Meri still has a year to go at Telstar, but plans a dual major in science and music when she moves on to college.

When sixty flutist auditioned for All State, Telstar Music Teacher Harry Davis said, the highest score received was 95.5. Meri earned a 95.

Davis also attended All State, in part to help promote the Tri-M honor society. The Telstar chapter is currently the only one in the state for this international society, he said. But Telstar music students named a prominent booth at the conference, providing other Maine musicians with information Tri-M.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the Bethel Chamber of Commerce for presenting to me the 1990 Senior Citizen Award. It is truly a great honor and I trust I will always be worthy of it. I also want to express a special thank-you to my family for their constant love and concern, to Rev. Lisa Vonderheide for her gracious presentation of the award, and to all my wonderful friends for always "being there."

May God bless you all,
Edna York

Dates to keep in mind from now to the end of school year include Saturday, June 2, the annual Alumni Banquet. The school will be open from 3-6 p.m. for those who wish to tour the "old building." We plan to keep busy right up through the last day of school, and have scheduled a Curriculum Fair with all grades participating.

On Tuesday, June 12, grades K and 1 will be displaying their demonstrations and on Thursday, June 14, grades 2-6 will be displaying theirs.

Parents are invited to come and view all the displays.

Friday, June 8, will be our end of the year field day. Grades k-3 will be planning activities right at school. Grades 4-6 will be traveling to Hebron Academy for a day of field events and a picnic. The students should be dressed to meet any kind of weather condition, warm or cold. The fields are open, so precautions should be taken for sunburn.

If there is lots of rain on June 8, Monday, June 11, has been scheduled as a rain date.

Our end of the year book fair is taking place this week. The books are to be picked up on May 24.

Classroom news for the week is as follows. The kindergarten classes have been reviewing and writing the numbers four and five and the alphabet letters A-D.

They have finished up their CAP units and are busily working to earn their second tiger tail to be in the Tiger Club. The first graders are preparing for their musical. They are also looking forward to their trip to Penikese Island. The second graders are looking forward to their trip to Augusta on May 22. They will leave the school at 9 a.m. and return at 4:15 p.m. Just a reminder for parents to pick them up, as they will not be back in time for the bus trip home.

This class showed good knowledge of map reading when they toured the nature trail. They had to place symbols for different landmarks on their maps and did a good job. They also spent time identifying different trees from their bark and leaves.

My fifth graders have had a busy week. We finished up our study of the reproductive system. We have had four lessons, done by the school nurse with the boys and girls together. We were very proud of their mature handling of this subject matter.

On Friday, Tim Berger, visited our class again for another program on drug education.

The sixth graders are reading The Forgotten Door together as a group. They are reading aloud and plan to do projects over the book. They are just about ready to publish their Environmental News and are getting ready to publish the annual Sixth Grade Yearbook. They are finishing up their waste program, but will continue to reuse, reduce, and recycle.

The third graders also went to the Norlands, but visited the kitchen and the farm section. They learned about the tools and utensils of the past. They had gingerbread made in the style of the 1870s. They learned that there was no waste in that time period. There was not everything was used. On the farm they learned that every part of the pig, except its whistle, was used. They sat on hard benches and listened to everything they were being taught.

They, too, are glad to be back in the present. They are learning mapping skills, finding where we are in North America. They are learning about scale and measuring with maps. They are working with our maps of the nature trail in back of our school. In spelling they are learning tiny, easy words and learning about syllables.

"There are stars that go out in the darkness
But whose silvery light shines on
There are roses whose perfume still lingers

Like the souls of the star and the rose."

News from

Woodstock School

From the Principal's Desk
As the end of the year quickly approaches, many activities will be taking place here at W.E.S. Some of them will be beginning as early as next week.

On Tuesday we recognized over 50 of our volunteers with a buffet dinner at the Boiler Room Restaurant in Bryant Pond.

On Wednesday, we will be holding our annual orientation meeting for new kindergarten parents. At that time, Mrs. Smith and I shall review the kindergarten curriculum and describe our school to the parents. Thursday and Friday will be testing dates for all new kindergarten students.

We received our results of this year's fourth grade MESA scores and, once again, it appears that Woodstock students, as a group, did better than the state average on this test. I hope to have the specific breakdown by subject area within the next two weeks. They will be included in an upcoming weekly.

In the classrooms
Kindergarten—Mrs. Gaudreau—Following our wonderful trip to Shop n' Save, we made a bulletin board with the four food groups.

Many of the kindergarten children are adding and subtracting now. We made dog puppets this week. Each dog had a name and the children told me what their dog liked, beginning with a D. Some liked dragons, dinosaurs, dresses, dollsies and dark. We are fast becoming "sound specialists."

Kindergarten—Mrs. Smith—This week we read the story, Stone Soup and then on Wednesday, we made it. Yummy, Yummy... and no one had to eat the stone! We also made butter to put on our crackers.

Kaleb Durgin brought in baby chicks for "Show and Tell" on Friday. We all enjoyed watching them run around our room.

Grade One—Mrs. Shimamura—We went to M & W Greenhouses out on the Old County Road on Monday. Cathy Monk taught us about growing plants and how the greenhouse helps her plants grow.

Grade one students have begun preparing for their essay contest entitled, "Proud to be an American."

Grade Two—Mrs. Leonard—We have been studying different forms of energy and are really looking forward to our trip to Maine Yankee next Wednesday.

This was our first week for art classes. Ms. Patch showed us how to do rubbings and explained the meaning of texture. We enjoy having her here!

Grade Two—Miss Taylor—We have been working on 100's, 10's, and 1's, in math. In science, we are going to Maine Yankee. This week we learned how the good and bad things about Nuclear Energy.

Congratulations to all those great readers who have moved up a level in reading. (Reporters: Jerry Irons and Lacey Palmer.)

Grade Three—Mrs. Greeke—We are working very hard in math doing division examples with two digit quotients. What a lot of steps are involved in solving them.

On Friday, May 23, we are going to participate in a multiplication facts challenge with Miss Morin's class.

Grade Three—Miss Morin—For our science unit on space, students are doing projects of their own choice for extra credit. Our nine geese eggs are progressing nicely. We are monitoring the temperature closely and hoping that Tuesday will be the day of their arrival.

On the end of the year multiplication challenge from Mr. Murphy has been rescheduled to May 25. That gives us extra time to practice, practice, and practice.

Congratulations to Emily Phillips and Eva Taylor for completing your dictionary SEARCH activities.

Grade Four—Mrs. Robin—Monday, we had an ice cream party with Mr. Craig, the superintendent, for the M.E.A. tests which we did. Some of the students received hats.

Mrs. McGuire and Mrs. Greeke gave us prizes from the Treasure Chest for winning the Campbell Soup Label Contest. (Reporter: Amanda Jordan.)

Grade Five—Mrs. Robinson—We started art with Ms. Patch on Monday. We are working on string, fabric, cotton, sandpaper, and sequins.

We are looking forward to our field trip to Reid State Park on Friday, May 25. We can wade and wave chase. On the way back, we are stopping for ice cream.

A group in reading has done wonderful reports on the Arctic Wolf and Coyotes. (Reporter: Eva Paul.)

Composite Room—Mrs. Brooks—Congratulations to Larry and Andy! Larry can read Are You My Mother and Andy can read My Cousin Katie. Both boys have worked very hard. Keep up the great work.

Art & FOCUS—Ms. Patch—The first FOCUS art group met this week. They made clay "reels" sculptures, which were cast in plaster.

On Thursday, classes will begin the symmetry unit. They will be working with tracing paper and fluorescent crayons.

A week in the life of HILLARY HARRISON

Howdy partner, how's it going? My mom got back from California just yesterday. She was sick with the flu the second day that she was there. Other than that everything else went pretty well.

In school we are reading a book called "Harriet the Spy." It is really good. Harriet is a girl who spies a lot. She's really nosy. She looks into peoples' skylights, etc. Our homework every night is to write a spy book using lots of similes and metaphors. It's really a lot of fun.

OUTSIZED, NOT OUTHEARTED—Telstar 7th grader Erin Kailey (above left) was undeterred by the size of the competition as she prepared to represent the middle school in the 100-yard dash at last week's meet at Mountain Valley Middle School. Her teammates also came up a little short in numbers, but the small squad competed gallantly in all the events they entered. In other action, Augusta Yates clears the bar in the high jump, and Erin and a friend wade off discouraged. (Photos by Michael Daniels)

Spring flower show in South Paris

The Maine Iris Society will host its 15th Annual Iris and Spring Flower Show on Saturday, May 26, at the Oxford Hills Junior High School, Pine Street, South Paris.
Median Iris in five categories, as well as seedlings, will vie for awards. Seedlings are those iris bred and grown for several years before being introduced to the public. It is an excellent opportunity to see new breeding results from the area hybridizers.
An artistic division allows exhibitors to show their creative abilities in the form of arrangements. This year's theme will be "May Along the Coast." Six categories including "Snow Topped Mountain Peaks," "Beaches," "Wetlands and Marsh," "Cliffs, Canyons, and Gorges," and "A May Basket to Hang Upon the Door" will be interpreted with iris and other plant material.
Spring flowers will include numerous varieties of daffodils, tulips, and other bulbs; perennials with a multitude of color such as violas, bleeding heart, arabis, iberis, doricum, phlox, primula, and trollius.

Wildflowers cultivated in the exhibitor's gardens will give the public a chance to see beautiful specimens, first hand.
Flowering shrubs and trees including various lilac sprays will be shown.
Judging will be in accordance with the rules and standards of the American Iris Society accredited judges, and by the National Council of State Garden Clubs accredited judges.

Show chairpersons this year are Warren and Marie Hazelton of Norway, and Russ and Joan Moors of Auburn.
The 15th Annual Median Iris Society Show will be open to the public from 1-5 p.m. without charge. Come browse and try to identify your favorite flowers and see others for the first time.

For more information, contact any member of the club. All dances next year will be held at this location.

Fundraisers scheduled for Bethel Library

The Bethel Library will have a number of fundraisers in the next few weeks.
The third annual Quilt Raffle is underway. The "Dresden Plate" quilt, sewn by Mary Brown, is on display at the library and tickets may be purchased from Library Trustees or a librarian at the library. The drawing will be on Mollockett Day.
Also on Mollockett Day will be the annual book sale on the library lawn. We depend on the generosity of local people for the success of the book sale, so please donate any books you may not need (anything except old textbooks, please).
Books may be left at the library, or call the library (824-2500) if you'd like to arrange for the books to be picked up.
We are excited to be repeating the Perennial Plant Sale which was very successful last year.

The sale will be held on the library lawn on June 2 from 10 a.m. to noon (rain date June 3, 10 a.m. to noon). If you'd like to donate perennials to the sale, please call the library or librarian Betsy Raymond (824-2261) for more information.

HENRY HASTINGS AWARD—Stan Howe caught an Arlan Jodrey smile when he presented Jodrey with his award at the Chamber of Commerce Award Banquet last week.

Chamber of Commerce presents awards at 21st annual banquet

Over 100 people turned out for the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce 21st Annual Awards Dinner held May 17 at the Bethel Inn.
The evening's awards were presented by Rev. Lisa Vanderheide, Louise Lincoln and Stan Howe.
Rev. Vanderheide quoted from the book of proverbs regarding the value of a good woman before presenting the Senior Citizen Award to Edna York.
Lincoln recalled the evolution of a redheaded, high-spirited young Esther Crockett into an astute businesswoman, owner of the Red Top Diner. Lincoln presented Crockett with the Chamber's Business of the Year award.
And Howe presented the Henry Hastings Award to Arlan Jodrey.
Jodrey, who has been a Bethel selectman for 16 years and who served on both the planning board and the budget committee, said he would take no laurels for himself. Rather, he reminded those present that it was the obligation and responsibility of every citizen to take an active part in their town government.

By VIVA WHITMAN

Not a real sunny morning but not raining at the moment. Hopefully it will be a day for working outside as Russell has a lot he wants to get done. However, we work around whatever we get for weather and keep hoping for the best.

How fast the leaves are coming out on the trees and everything getting going, even the flies. Those we could do without but that doesn't seem to be what happens. We get them with the warm weather whether we want them or not or like them. It makes it hard to know what to do for a bug repellent this year with what they have said about bug sprays. You think you are using what is right and the next thing you know, there comes a lot to do about it on t.v. and it is no longer safe to use. Makes one wonder how much testing they do on products before putting them out on the market.

Marge Ripley took me to the doctor's last Wednesday where I got different arch supports and medicine for my allergies. Still get all stuffed up though. A great time of year for that.

Didn't feel too good last week but went to Wynona's on Thursday afternoon to babysit and to go to the dance recital on Friday night. On the way home Thursday, we stopped at the pet store in Oxford and picked up a puppy for the girls' birthday present. They have been so scared of cats and dogs that Nonie thought by getting a little puppy they might get over being so scared of them. It has not worked as yet but still hope it will help. She is such a cute puppy and so smart and loving it would seem as though it would help them to get over their fear but time alone will tell.

Went to the dance recital on Friday evening and watched lots of children do their stuff. The little ones are especially cute whether they dance or not. The girls had to wait while before they went on but both did a great job in their dance routine. I was very proud of them when they did.

Saturday was the day of the parade but we didn't get to see it as Kariann had a birthday party in the afternoon at the Ground Round with a few friends. It was quite a party with Bingo the clown there to help entertain the children. There were two parties at the same time and the children played games together and had a birthday cake for both. Sunday being Mother's Day as well as Kariann's real birthday, we had a good dinner. They celebrate the girls' birthdays together partially so Courtney won't feel left out at that time. After lunch with a birthday cake for both and ice cream for those who wanted it, the girls opened their gifts as well as Nonie and I opening our Mother's Day gifts. The girls got lots of nice things and Nonie and I got nice Mother's Day gifts also. They brought me home later in the afternoon.

Didn't feel good the first part of last week but had gotten to feeling better Saturday and then it started over again so was rather sick Sunday and not any better on Monday. Did get to feeling better on Tuesday and went to town for some groceries we needed. Also went to the cemetery to pick up the box of old flowers put there last year. Where we use artificial flowers, we use the same boxes over again so we go get them to be spruced up for the new year.

Myrna and Bernard White brought Peggy's car home yesterday from the garage where it had been to get the fender fixed that got dented a while ago while parked at the Grange Hall in West Paris.

Got a card from Peggy dated the ninth and they were in Cody, Wyo. and had seen Old Faithful spurt up about 50 feet she said. They had waited about an hour so they could see it.

In talking with Mary Lovejoy, she said they found the tracks of a moose and cat who had visited them and walked through their strawberry patch. They hadn't seen them but wished they had. She said there has been a moose and two calves around the area since last year and her mother has seen it or them at times. It is quite a sight to see a moose.

Mary, Kathleen Holden and Mary's mother, Traci McKenney went to Winthrop where they went to get some serving pots for the Grange. While in Winthrop they visited the Gingerbread House Perennial Gardens. Mary said they were beautiful and the pathways were of crushed rock and with all kinds of plants around to see. Signs tell what each is and the whole thing was a beautiful sight to see.

Marcia Baxter went to visit her mother over the weekend.

Don't forget the dance at the West Paris Grange Hall on June 2. Door prizes and refreshments as usual as well as the usual good time for all. Come and enjoy. Hope everyone is in the pink condition and stays that way. Take care one and all and have a good week.

Newry

By GIL SEELEY

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Bachevalier and yours truly were guests on Mother's Day of Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Littlefield and their two children, Julie and Jody.

The Newry Mother's Club met Monday night, May 13 at the Municipal Building with 14 members and two guests: Brenda Bartholomew and daughter, Edna-Rae. President Cindy Morrey opened the meeting and an ode to mothers was read by Gil Seeley. Secretary Peggy Wight read the notes of the last meeting, and June Swan reported on the finances. Cards were sent to the shut-ins, etc. by Sunshine Lady Olive Anderson. Nancy Wright reported on the progress of the planned trip to Santa's Village for the 30 kids who usually go and money was voted for it. June 18 is the date and time to leave is around 8:30 a.m. Nothing was decided on the Shop 'n' Save lunch; it was left for further discussion. More money was collected for the "no food" food sale. The cook book is still in the making. There was some talk on the memorial fund. The annual banquet will be at Town and Country Inn again this year, June 11 and 12 at 6 p.m. as usual. There was some talk of having a bake sale at the Maine Street '90 flea market on July 15 at the town building, sponsored by the club. Sylvia Wight will do the soliciting by phone. Whoever will volunteer should be there at 9 a.m. The next club meeting will be Sept. 10 with election of officers and a tasting party. Meeting was adjourned and our auctioneer Betsy Clark got busy with articles that were for sale. Refreshments were served by Nancy Wight, Cindy and Gil.

A Christmas tree was planted near the town building Wednesday, May 16 donated by Bill and Sylvia Wight, to be decorated with lights at Christmas time. About 40 women from various churches attended the luncheon at the Rumbout Congregational U.C.C. Wednesday, May 16. Among them were: Olive Anderson, Helen Morton, Freda Robertson, Rena Powers, yours truly, and Sylvia Wight and a few others, Sis Post, Peggy Wight, to name a few from Bethel. All enjoyed some old time music, hymns and a delicious plate of lasagna, salad, cookies and sherbet.

Dan and Pat Riley of Milan, N.H. visited Norm and Louise Tetley on Thursday and brought some real fresh trout for Norman.

A public baked bean and ham supper with cole slaw, home made rolls, pies and cake will be held at the Newry Grange Hall on May 26. Price is $4.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. Benefit for the Grange to help with expenses. A memorial service will be held May 27 at 11 a.m. in front of the town building. Women of the church will serve coffee and sweets at 10:30 a.m.

Get ready, get set... The Snowmobile Club flea market is coming on June 2 at Newry Corner. Clothes, etc. will be appreciated.

The bowlers "for fun" who went to the Oxford Lanes were: Karlene Bachevalier, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Louise Tetley, Olive Anderson, Rena Powers was a guest. Karlene was high on the triples and also high on the singles with one string of 128.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING

Louise Loring of Gilead was honored this past Mother's Day by her daughter, Deborah Cantello and Jessica with a trip to their home in Portland and attending special events held over last weekend.

Miss Maine Pre-Teen Pageant sponsored by the East Coast Pageants at a party in the ballroom of the Holiday Inn by the Bay with Miss Ohio, of the "Miss America" pageant hosting the event.

Over 500 girls of this age group were present from up and down the eastern coast. This was a second stage in judging for this pageant where each girl was observed to determine how well they intermingled socially. Other events will consist of personal interviews at a later date, and the climax of course will be the judging, where each girl will model a formal party gown, and a sporting outfit and perform on stage. The winner will be awarded an all expense paid trip to Disney World in Florida.

The following day was Grandparent's Day at the Presumpscot School where Jessica attends fifth grade. A program was presented at the assembly where Jessica rendered a solo recital on her violin, and folk song "Lightly Row," accompanied by her music teacher, Mrs. Anne Stepp. The assembly was led and directed by Ms. Dauna Binder, Jessica's home room teacher.

West Bethel

By CONSTANCE BROADBENT

Dear Douglas:

Another annum passes, we welcome spring, and we celebrate your birth once again. As I sit here separated from you by 200 miles, I feel again the surge of mixed emotions over why we took ourselves so far away from our family, friends, and origins. I wish, at times like these, that we were still within a few miles of all of you, that our yard were still the gathering place for car washes and cookouts.

But I also feel connected to the mountains and the members of this little community. I enjoy the open spaces, the bucolic setting, the special occasions that are unique to the territory. Last week, for example, we of the Pleasant Valley Grange Cook-for-the-Cause Committee baked our beans and our pies, spruced up our hall, donned our gingham-trimmed aprons and served a super supper to a group of Stan Howe backers. The diners enjoyed a chance to show their support for the candidate for State Representative; the grangers enjoyed the opportunity to build up their "replace-the-old-chairs-fund." That's not the kind of social interaction that I was used to as a "flatlander," as you well know.

Now did I have the time (back there) to roam the roads in search of serenity. Here, I make the time... even though the activity level increases in direct proportion to the number of connections made, I have a system of stress avoidance "in place" (that's buzz word talk) that helps me to participate without the palpitations. These days that translates into a nice brisk walk in the early hours to set the pace for the day's enterprise. I say "good morning" to work horses, to not-so-busy horses, to steer that will someday be somebody's steak, to bobolinks and bluebirds. I pretend not to hear the barking of the occasional dog, and I continue to hope that he is on some kind of leash. I try not to become too upset by the few speed demons who whiz by; if I hear or see them coming I hold my breath until their monoxide mist clears.

All of this meandering is done under the aegis of the mountains at hand. They offer their shades and their shadows as backdrop to my parade, changing their aspect each day as they keep me on my toes. Speaking of which, I noticed with relief, that the macadamized mooseprints have survived yet another winter. As I march toward the mountains, I use them (the hoofprints that is) as roadmarks each time that I approach their place by the sandy shoulder. It's nice to know that some things endure.

There's a strange kind of security in that weird knowledge. Other things, however, need a helping hand in order to survive. In keeping with the spirit of gladness and/or the urge to recycle, I've embarked on my second annual worm relocation program. My marathon route was simply littered the other morning with earth worms and one or two night crawlers. Some were slithering along the pavement; others had already been flattened by passing wheels. Since our gardens suffer from a dearth of the do-gooders, I stuffed a few (of the living) into my pockets and planned to return later for more. Unfortunately for them and my garden, I got busy and so did the sun. By the next morning, those remaining were mere paper shadows of their former selves. They had been fried and dried on the road. Next time, after a big rain, I'll remember to carry along a zip-lock relocater bag. I wonder if I can still scare sister Peg the way I did as a kid... a few worms to chase her with and I could extract the most absurd promises... I'll have to put a few away for this summer's "Girls' Week."

While I'm out collecting my worms, others will begin a collection of stamps, if Postmaster Caroline Merrill has anything to say about it. She's hosting (even as you read this) an open house today at the West Bethel Post Office from 2-4 p.m. in hopes of starting a stamp collecting club. Nancy Tapley, Ben Franklin Stamp Coordinator, and representative of the Paris/Norway Stamp Club, will be the guest speakers. Folks of all ages will enjoy refreshments and stamp talk as they gather to test the waters of philately.

...In the Why Me? Department this week:

The Union Church membership had more success in sprucing up their grounds than in replacing their pastor.

Rupert Grover is getting a run for his money with his "Planned Duck-hood Program."

Dewey Thayer discovered that he had to sacrifice a few branches of his "family tree" in order to insure it's success.

Linda Westleigh was last seen praying over her polychromes in order that they may recover from their recent surgery.

The Morgans, meanwhile, continue to pray over their pool in hopes that the water will clear by summer.

The local fishermen continue to haunt their favorite pools in expectation of more bites at their bait and few at their flesh... "Dear, where did we leave the Ben's?"

There, in a very large nutshell, dear Douglas, is the West Bethel "connection" that keeps me from getting too melancholy too often. There is much to occupy the fancy and much to be accomplished. Now if we could figure out a way to see you guys more often, all would be hunky dory, wouldn't it? I guess that's our assignment for the future.

Meanwhile, it's your birthday. Let's celebrate! Let's toast the boy in you and the man in you, the child who loves to play and the man who embraces work. As our "middle child" you assumed responsibility for yourself at an early age, and you continue to strive for independence. We're proud of your progress and we beam in your presence. We see you as a magnet; you draw children and grownups to you. Everyone senses your kindness, your caring, and your love. People trust you... and soon they love you.

In my last letter I thanked Muddy for being my mother; today, I'd like to thank you for being our son. (These last 29... say it isn't so... years have been such a pleasure!)... Don't every stop... Love, C.B.

Songo Pond

By ALICE KIMBALL

Mrs. Celia Gorman enjoyed an early Mother's Day seafood dinner with her grandson, Danny Wheeler and family at their camp here on the pond one evening last week.

Mrs. Elmira Doyen and Connie Hindman were in Rumford on Monday.

I visited Joan Coolidge in Hanover Tuesday then went down to the village to spend the night with the Adams family and attended the Air Force Band New England Concert at Muskie Auditorium.

Jack and Eleanor Parsons attended the Men's Club Ladies Night banquet in Rumford Monday evening.

Mrs. Christine Kimball arrived back at her home here Tuesday after spending the past six months at her home in Florida. Her daughter Deanna Andrews of Auburn flew down to help her mother drive back via the Blue Ridge Mountain Parkway.

Friday afternoon Christine rode with me to Norway to do some errands and visit with Mrs. Irene Hutchinson at the Convent Living Center and Maxine Brown at Market Square Health Center. Also at Market Square we discovered Diane Lescault had been a patient there since December. She was extremely happy to see us again.

Happiness is the ability to extract pleasure from the simple things.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saunders

Saunders-Codyer nuptials at Martha Mary Chapel

Nancy Codyer and Robert Saunders were married Nov. 5 at the Martha Mary Chapel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Codyer of Marlboro, Mass. Her husband is the son of Patricia Greig of Bethel and Everett Saunders of Pinebush, N.Y.

The bride wore a white lace gown fashioned with a scoop neckline, short puffed sleeves and slim skirt. A circle of flowers held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of pink and white flowers arranged with ivy greens.

Eileen Codyer, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Richard Saunders, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were Thomas Codyer and Peter Morton.

A reception was held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Hudson, Mass., after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders are residing in Nashua, N.H., after a wedding trip to the Florida Keys.

He can choose to do something about, while a disease is something that a therapist must cure. We can repent of our sins. We cannot repent of our diseases. This is not to deny the value of competent, professional counseling. Sometimes what is called for is professional therapy, and in that case it might be a sin not to seek it. Sin is making the wrong choices, or a refusal to make the right ones.

Let us not overuse the concept of sin, or use it to control or manipulate other people. But let us also not ignore the reality of evil, the reality of sin. A respect for human nature, and for our power to make choices, demands that we recognize that sin exists, and that each of us is capable of sin.

Rev. David J. Armstrong
Unitarian/Universalist Churches of South Paris

A CLOSING NOTE
A big thank you to my loyal customers, businesses for the outstanding support given to Hearty Moms.

My little part time, get-me-out-of-the-house business has turned into a full time 60-70 hour a week operation.

The support, as I mentioned above, was beyond comprehension. I guess in a way, you might say too much. This has forced me to make some major decisions. Do I expand and work more hours or stop now?

I have decided to be a mother and part of a family again.

Hearty Moms was great and it was because of you. Thank you.

budget of the Department of Economic and Community Development made by the Legislature last session resulted in a large cut in the tourism budget, asked, "What do you feel about promoting tourism in the state of Maine?"

Mills, who said he was on the committee that reviewed the DECED, said one of the things he recommended in that review was "a change in emphasis on where tourism dollars are spent... shifting the emphasis from coastal to fall and winter advertising where there's more potential for growth."

Bovin said, "I think we need the tourism industry. You've got to attract them. I think the advertising has proved itself... you go anywhere south of Massachusetts and they don't realize we've got mountains."

Hotham said, "Tourism in some instances is a double-edged sword. Tourists have become residents and have driven up the housing costs."

Still, Hotham said, "Tourism is the growth industry and needs to be promoted."

Fraser said, "I hope any moves we make would encourage people to come in the spring and summers as well as promoting fall and winter."

Howe said, "I think one of the unfortunate things is the Maine Publicity Bureau—a private way of funding things—has gone down hill so badly since the 1970's and 1980's."

Bellwood said, "Our chief competitor is the New Hampshire mountains... we need to target areas and present a nice package."

Barth said, "Look at what Nova Scotia does. They have a tremendous way of promoting the entire province."

"In cutting tourism advertising," Barth said, "you're sending the wrong message."

Bennett said, "There's a smart way of doing business and a poor way of doing business... As for tourism, you don't just cut off your nose to spite your face."

Gray said the promotion of the state of Maine ought to be a public and private partnership.

PRESENTING THE PETITION—Selectmen Marie Bartlett of Greenwood (second from left) and Pat Doone of Bethel (third from left) present the school-budget reconsideration petition to School Board Chairman Margaret Hand and Superintendent of Schools Dewaine Craig. The successful petition, signed by 369 local residents, calls for a new meeting of the school district budget. Last week the SAD #44 Board of Directors set the reconsideration meeting for Thursday, May 31.

The bids. Bids will also be sought for painting of the Town Hall, road construction, and sand. The selectmen will also be accepting bids on an annual basis for record keeping and groundskeeping at Woodlawn Cemetery, due to the resignation of cemetery sexton John Ricker.

Code enforcement office applicants will be interviewed on May 29, and members of the planning board are invited to be present during the interviews if they wish.

The selectmen approved a request from Andover Wood Products for rental of the Town Hall for both May 23 and May 25 for a seminar for their employees.

Corrections on town map 15 have been tabled until after the selectmen again meet with surveyor Charles "Bucky" Burnham.

Larry Wyman has donated a flag to the town in memory of his father.

Andover residents Stanley Morse and Don French will receive letters from the town in recognition of their special efforts on behalf of the town. Morse has been taking responsibility for the flag on the common, and French has cleaned and trimmed a long length of sidewalk on North Main Street.

Andover Arms Bed and Breakfast has re-applied for a sign permit, and the selectmen want to determine the exact placement of the sign before deciding.

A letter from Attorney Barry Zimmerman representing Blue Rock Industries stated that Blue Rock expects to be on site within the next 30 days to repair the roads. The selectmen are making every effort to resolve the dispute with Blue Rock as soon as possible.

Road Commissioner Wilbur Cheney requested the purchase of a new push lawn mower and the selectmen approved.

The next Andover selectmen meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 23, instead of Tuesday, so that selectman Brian Mills can attend the Newry selectmen meeting.

Sunday River Skiway Sustains 10th consecutive record year

Sunday River Ski Resort closed its 189 day season Saturday, May 12 with a 10 percent increase in skier visits.

Posting one of the country's longest ski seasons, Sunday River achieved a record 396,000 skier visits, the industry's business indicator.

Sunday River attributes its success to marked increases in new skiers and vacation business.

"Our Guaranteed Learn to Ski Program grew a dramatic 59 percent," noted Director of Marketing, Bill Jensen. "Increases in vacation and midweek business also accounted for establishing our new skier visit record."

Gross revenues from skiing were up 17 percent for the 1989-90 season.

With an early start to the ski season, sustained cold temperatures and a return to average snowfall, Sunday River continued a strong beginning and end to the season, with a 75 percent increase in business in November and a 42 percent increase for April over last year.

Sunday River attributes its sustained growth and success to a single minded commitment to superior conditions and snow management. And with a growing popular image as an area committed to skiers, Sunday River has become one of the country's most popular ski resorts for early and late season skiing.

A $2.1 million summer capital improvement plan includes a 20 percent increase in snowmaking capacity, as well as the addition of snowmaking to trails not presently on-line, expansion of the children's ski school and South Ridge base lodge, as well as a mountain-top chalet and dining facility.

A permanent dual race arena will top the list for summer improvements. In addition, Sunday River will offer a new mountain biking program, establishing the area as a year round resort.

"In an industry where skier visits were declared flat," notes Les Otten, Sunday River President, "I am optimistic about Sunday River's continued growth and profitability."

In a year where Inc. magazine selected Les Otten "Turnaround Entrepreneur of the Year," Sunday River showed its shifting colors with a 10 percent increase in skier visits opposite an industry wide downturn in business.

Petition succeeds; new SAD #44 budget meeting set for May 31

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Organizers of a drive to cut the extra $80,000 added to the SAD #44 budget at the regular district budget meeting on May 3 have presented School Board Chairman Margaret Hand with a 369-signature petition calling for a budget reconsideration meeting.

At its regular meeting last week, the school board—acknowledging the apparent success of the petition drive—had scheduled a reconsideration meeting for May 31.

However, the board made the meeting contingent upon receipt of the petition, with the required 100 valid signatures of district voters.

Last Wednesday, Selectmen Pat Doone of Bethel and Marie Bartlett of Greenwood presented Hand and School Supt. Dewaine Craig with that petition.

The petition had been signed by 369 people (many more actually, since a number of couples put both their names on one line, and had to be counted as a single signature).

Prior to the presentation, Bethel Town Clerk Merton Brown had validated 110 signatures from his town—thus exceeding the legal requirement for calling a reconsideration meeting.

[As of press time, signatures from other towns were still being validated. This process is largely a formality, however, since the legal requirement has already been fulfilled.]

At the May 3 budget meeting, a motion was made from the floor to add $80,000 to the $927,084 (23.67 percent) increase in local taxes recommended by the school board.

The audience—largely school district employees and their families—passed the motion by a margin of roughly 2 to 1.

But such a motion to add money to the budget was unprecedented in the district (although completely legal), and following the meeting a number of people, including many who had not attended and some who had, objected strongly to the surprise move and began to press for a reconsideration meeting.

That meeting will be held on Thursday, May 31, at 7:30 p.m. in the Helen Berry auditorium at Telstar.

State hires consultant to develop mining rules

The Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and the Department of Conservation, Land Use Regulation Commission (LURC) have hired Ernest K. Lehmann & Associates, Inc. of Minneapolis to assist the agencies in developing rules regulating nonferrous (non-iron) metal mining in Maine.

Legislation passed this session requires DEP and LURC to jointly adopt or amend mining rules by Feb. 1, 1991.

The state has initiated the rulemaking process by hiring a consultant. The next step is for the consultant team, beginning this week, to interview a wide range of interest groups, potential applicants, and interested members of the public in order to identify issues to be addressed by the rules.

Workshops on the draft rules will then be held in September, followed by a public hearing in late fall or early winter.

Task force members include Gene Gendron and Philip Soucy, both members of the Board of Environmental Protection; Dean Marriott, DEP Commissioner; Linda Alverson and Charles Gadzik, members of the Land Use Regulation Commission; and David Boulter, Director of LURC.

and representatives of environmental and industry groups as well as state and local governments. The Delegation held a 1987 public hearing on the issue in Bethel, and there has been an extensive public comment period.

In 1986, the Forest Service issued the White Mountain National Forest Plan, a 10 year management proposal for more than 600,000 acres in New Hampshire and a portion of Western Maine.

This area included a 16,000 acre roadless section in Maine that was eligible for wilderness designation, but the Forest Service recommended that only 12,000 acres actually be studied for its wilderness potential. However, the entire 16,000 acres has been managed as wilderness since 1986, making it off limits to timber harvesting and some other types of activity.

Passage of the bill would end uncertainty over the future management of the area, particularly the 4,000 acre area being released, while preserving a relatively undeveloped parcel of forestland for future generations.
